SEVENTEENTH HUME CONFERENCE, AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL UNIVERSITY,
CANBERRA, 27 JUNE TO 1 JULY, 1990

Welcome to the Seventeenth Hume Conference, welcome to the Australian National University and to Canberra, indeed, for a great many of you, welcome to Australia! We hope you have had uneventful and tolerable trips - it is idle to hope for more - and that you have found your temporary abode without too much difficulty. We hope to have taken care of the final details of the conference arrangements, including the programme which inevitably differs somewhat from the preliminary one. Please consult it for any changes affecting you directly.

Refreshments: Morning and afternoon coffee and tea and light supper between the last afternoon session and the early-evening session are provided for all registered participants.

Meals: Those who have booked meals with us will find a ticket for each meal enclosed here. Please check that you have got what you have asked for. The tickets should be given to the people serving our meals. These meals will all be served in the Tea Room of the Coombs Building; the local folk will show the way.

Lunch on Thursday and Friday is left to the private initiative. There are a number of food-outlets convenient to the conference venue, incl. the Cellar Bar of University House. Again the locals will show the way.

Those who have not booked meals with us will find evening meals in University House (Cellar Bar or Bistro) or in restaurants in Civic, as the city centre is called. We can, at best, add a few people for the catered meals. Should you want to join us for any of these, you must contact Mrs. Wetselaar (249 3265) or one of us immediately.

Receipts: Those who have not had a receipt for registration, meals and excursion should find it enclosed here. Please check that this is the case.

Accommodation: Unless you have arranged otherwise with us, your accommodation must be paid directly to Burgmann College, University Housing Office (for Liversidge Apartments), or University House. We cannot take any responsibility for such payments.

Non-registered companions: Joan Gauthier has kindly offered to show some of Canberra to those who accompany participants in the conference. She proposes that those interested meet her in the foyer of University House at 10 am on Thursday, 28 June. For further information, contact Mrs. Gauthier on 7389 or, from outside the University, 249 5389.

Help: Should you need advice or information, you will find both of us at most of the sessions and at the meals. Our telephone Nos. are (249 not needed from within the University): Knud Haakonssen's office 249 3287, home 251 4946; David Norton's office 249 3345, in University House 7395 (249 5395 from outside the University). Alternatively, contact the secretary in the History of Ideas Programme, Mrs. Vibeke Wetselaar, telephone 249 3265.
